- Education:: BA Journalism, UNC-Chapel Hill
- Business and civic experience:: Retired July 1, 2010 as Senior Vice President and Chief Communications Officer for Duke Energy after 10 years in various leadership roles in the company's corporate communications department. I have more than 25 years experience in corporate and trade association communications in Charlotte, Washington and New Orleans. Prior to that I had a 10-year career as a journalist with the Associated Press and The Charlotte News. I currently serve on the Board of Advisors of the UNC School of Journalism. I recently completed a term on the board of the Carolina Institute for the Environment. In New Orleans I served on the board of the local PBS station.
- Areas of expertise and interests/skills:: I have a great deal of professional experience in public affairs and stakeholder relations on controversial energy and environmental issues. I believe my professional communications / public relations skills would be a valuable asset on the marine commission as it deals with challenging new issues. As a 10-year resident of Mountain Island Lake, I am passionate about protecting the water and the surrounding lake environment. I also understand the importance of public access to the lake for recreation and the importance of protecting their safety. From my role at Duke Energy I understand the tension between environmental protection and expanded lake access. My understanding of the issues would give me a head start and a balanced perspective as a new commissioner.
