She was honored with the National Coalition Against Domestic Violence's Voices Rising Award, the RESOLVE Grassroots Resolutionary Award, mayoral recognition, and various other accolades for her activism and efforts to bridge gaps within her community. Ms. Cruz holds a Master in Public Administration (MPA) and Nonprofit Management from SUNY College at Brockport and Bachelor of Science in Human Services from SUNY Empire State College. She continues to become knowledgeable through networking, helping others and advocating for individuals in her community & nationally. She is the manager of operations for Reluxme, LLC where she helped to increase the revue to a 1.2-million-dollar operation. She also works parttime with American Airlines providing excellent customer service to all passengers and staff. She is able to do all these works through her dedication and relationship in God, wonderful leaders/mentors, sisterhood, and her faith.

Area of expertise and interests/skills

For over two decades, I have been committed to counseling and improving the lives of vulnerable people via my professional work and extensive volunteer efforts. In my role as an Examiner Services for the Monroe County Department of Health and Human Services & Coordinator Youth Employment Unit (2004-2016), I supported a range of vulnerable clients (children and families, the elderly, and clients with disabilities), provided service plans, referrals, and resources needed to achieve self-sufficiency. My extensive experience includes advocating for my clients by creating intersystem connections among schools, courts, mental health providers, and other agencies. The same spirit of community collaboration has extended into my volunteer efforts as well. Since 1994, I have worked tirelessly on a number of initiatives to combat domestic violence, substance abuse, diversity, homelessness, poverty and economic development – causes I am deeply passionate about given my own experiences as a teen single mom, survivor and living in poverty. I engage with many realms of community and public life in the interest of social justice – from political campaigns, social justice, maintaining active membership in important unions, organizing, and participating in marches, trainings, and other initiatives for change, and committing myself to ministerial work.

C. Contributions to Science

I have served as a community advisor board and patient leadership team member for two PCORI-funded projects that tested new interventions for survivors of interpersonal violence. In this role, I provided consulting to the research team regarding patient needs, survivors impact, community relations management, data interpretation and written publications. I have presented and train on behalf of the research team to community partners, law enforcement, prosecutors, social service provides, educational institutes, and members of the clergy.

D. Additional Information: Research Support and/or Scholastic Performance

Completed Research Support

Removing Disparities in Interpersonal Violence Case Processing, University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry, Pilot Award Program

Cerulli, Berger (PIs)

7/17 – 7/19

This two-phase project is a community-based participatory research (CBPR) study that aims to develop technology for the improvement of bruising detection for all victims of interpersonal violence. The first phase involves comparing victims' bruising documentation using traditional digital images against images acquired with alternative light source (ALS) lights. The second phase involves leveraging light technology to enhance bruising documentation for victims with darker skin pigmentation.

Role: Patient Leadership/Advisory Board Facilitator/Consultant

Healing Through Education, Advocacy and Law (HEAL), PCORI

Cerulli (PI)

7/16 – 6/19

This study compares the health, safety, and quality of life for victims of violence who receive either an integrated violence intervention through a Medical Legal Partnership (MLP) or care as usual (CAU), a social work referral. The MLP, part of the clinic: Healing Through Education, Advocacy and Law, uses evidence-based, integrated methods to promote patients' health that have experienced violence by a loved one or caregiver. The objective of this study is to assess HEAL's ability to improve the health, safety and quality of life for patients victimized by violence.

Role: Patient Leadership Team & Publications

Greater Rochester Health Foundation:

Nicole Trabold (PI)

7/16 - 6/18

This study was Intimate Partner Violence Virtual Health Coach (RESOLVE): In partnership with Rochester Institute of Technology an iPad based Intimate Partner Violence (IPV) Virtual Health Coach application will be created and beta tested for its application in primary care clinics to assist IPV screening and assessment.

Role: Consultant & Publications

Patient Priorities and Community Context: Navigation for Disadvantaged Women with Depression, PCORI Poleshuck (PI)

7/13 – 5/16

To create, implement and test a new intervention, PSP, to women who are recruited from an Ob/Gyn setting who have depression and social determinant of health challenges. This grant also utilizes interdisciplinary case conferencing as a means to support community health workers in their efforts with this marginalized patient population.

Role: Community Advisor
