Caveats

- Incentives are "performance-based"
 - This means the company must perform (do what they said they would) before incentives are awarded
- We will not dip into General Fund balance to pay incentives
 - If the company pays less than $1.280M in taxes in a year, they will only get what they paid. The rest will be carried forward to a future year and paid if that year's tax payment is sufficient
- We have "claw-back" provision the agreement.
 Anytime during and up to 5 years after the agreement, if they close, we get anything we have paid them to date back.
