

This aerial map illustrates the proposed temporary construction easement for North Prong Clarke Creek, located within the Walden Development in Mecklenburg County, North Carolina. The easement is highlighted in red and is situated on Tax Parcel 019-441-11, which is approximately 0.09 acres in size. The map shows the creek's path through the development, bordered by a future greenway (dashed green line). Surrounding areas include Ramah Church Rd to the north, Fred Brown Rd to the west, and the Oehler Nature Preserve to the south. An inset map in the top right corner provides a regional context, showing the location within Mecklenburg County, specifically near Huntersville and Ramah Church. The map includes a legend for various features: Future Greenway (dashed green line), Creeks & Streams (solid blue line), Walden Development (tan area), Parcels (white outlines), 100 Year Floodplain (hatched area), County Owned Property (green area), and Temporary Construction Easement (red outline). A scale bar indicates 1,500 feet, and a north arrow is located in the bottom right corner.
