

North Carolina Ammo Laws: The State of North Carolina prohibits the possession and sale of Teflon-coated bullets. Beyond that, there are no known unusual ammo laws in the state of North Carolina; the state does not require a license to purchase ammo. Of course, federal laws still apply.